RULES.

I.—Indian Branches of Non-resident Firms.

1. Indian branches of non-resident firms shall ordinarily be assessed on the actual profits disclosed from the balance sheet and profit and loss accounts of the branches.

2. Except as provided in rule 3, in cases of firms in which the form adopted for the accounts and balance sheets of the head office or of the Indian branches does not enable the share of the profits properly due to the Indian branches to be accurately gauged, or which keep no accounts at all either at their head office abroad or at their branch offices in India, the Collector may either fix as the incomes of the Indian branches for the assessment purposes a percentage of the turn-over of the business done by the branches or, if that be not suitable, determine such incomes on the basis of any other method of calculation which he considers to be more reliable.

3. The profits of the Indian branches of non-resident Insurance Companies (Life, Marine, Fire, Accident, Burglary, Fidelity, Guarantee, etc.) shall be based on the proportion of the total profits of the companies corresponding to the proportion which their Indian premium income bears to their total premium income.

II.—Indian Firms allied to Non-resident Firms of which they are not technically branches or agencies.

4. Except as provided in section 33 sub-section (2), the procedure prescribed by rules 1 and 2 shall also apply in the case of Indian firms allied to non-resident firms of which they are not technically branches or agencies.

MARINE DEPARTMENT.

The 1st July 1918.

No. 69Marine.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 5 of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884 (IV of 1884), and with the previous sanction of the Governor General in Council, the Governor in Council of the Presidency of Fort William in Bengal is pleased to make the following rules to regulate the transport and importation of explosives, other than those referred to in section 14 of the said Act, in the Port of Calcutta, in supersession of all rules previously made under the said section on the subject by the Government of Bengal.

II. These rules are supplementary to the rules relating to the transport and importation of explosives made by the Governor General in Council and published under the Government of India, Commerce and Industry Department, Notification No. 4013—33, dated the 6th June 1914.

RULES TO REGULATE THE TRANSPORT AND IMPORTATION OF EXPLOSIVES IN THE PORT OF CALCUTTA.

1. Definition.—Unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

(1) "Explosive," as defined in section 4 of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884, and as used in these rules.—

(a) means gunpowder, nitro-glycerine, dynamite, gun-cotton, blasting powders, fulminate of mercury or of other metals, coloured fires, and every other substance, whether similar to those above mentioned or not, used or manufactured with a view to produce a practical effect by explosion or a pyrotechnic effect; and

(b) includes fog-signals, fireworks, fuzes, rockets, percussion caps, detonators, cartridges, ammunition of all descriptions and every adaptation or preparation of an explosive as above defined.

(2) It also includes any dangerous substance which may have been ordered by the Governor-General in Council, under section 17 of the said Act, to be deemed an explosive.

2. Except as is hereinafter provided for, no vessel shall have on board, within the limits of the port, any explosives, except two storm or danger signals, six smaller lights of the same description, 24 blue lights, 24 rockets, or 24 socket signals with friction tubes, 24 detonating signals with friction tubes, or in lieu thereof 24 one-pound charges of gunpowder for use in a gun, together with a small box of friction tubes and a flask of priming powder, 24 private signals of any Company, and 12 red lights for each boat and life raft carried under the statutory rules for life-saving appliances (made by the Board of Trade under section 427 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894), and a reasonable quantity of safety cartridges for the equipment of the vessel or for the personal use of the officers on board the ship, provided that the quantities held by them are declared in the prescribed Customs Forms A and B, respectively, or in the case of a foreign vessel, in the Stores List of such vessel. Detonators and their friction tubes to be stored separately. All explosives which vessels are by this rule permitted to keep on board in port shall be stored in all cases in separate, detached and completely enclosed magazines for each description of signals. The magazines should be kept in a house on deck and stowed or ranged as far apart as possible, so that in the event of fire they can be removed or thrown overboard.

3. All inward-bound vessels carrying explosives, in excess of the quantity prescribed by rule 2, are prohibited from proceeding above Budge-Budge.

4. Explosives of classes 1, 6 and 7, as laid down in the rules issued under the Government of India, Commerce and Industry Department, Notification No. 4013—33, dated the 6th June 1914 (the Indian Explosives Rules, 1914), that is to say, gunpowder, ammunition and fireworks in excess of the quantity prescribed in rule 2, shall be landed and deposited in the magazine at Moyapore.

5. For the convenience of vessels having ship's gunpowder, ammunition and fireworks on board, a properly constructed powder-boat will be always in attendance off the magazine for landing and shipping these explosives. No charge will be made for the use of the boat for landing these ship's explosives, but the responsibility of the magazine keeper in respect of the ship's explosives shall not commence until they are landed on the bank, and shall cease as soon as they are shipped on board the boat. Every precaution will be taken to insure the safety of the explosives while in the boat, but the landing and shipping shall be at the risk of the vessel.

6. Vessels bringing consignments of trade explosives shall be allowed the use of the magazine powder-boat; but should passing vessels require the use of the boat to put out or take in ship's explosives, such vessels shall be accommodated before the boat can be used to discharge explosives brought as cargo. The landing of trade explosives, whether the station boats or private boats are employed, shall be at the risk and expense of the consignees of the explosives, and no liability shall be accepted for damage sustained while in course of landing or until the consignments are stored in the magazine.

7. Explosives specified in the first division, class 6, of the Indian Explosives Rules, 1914, viz., safety cartridges, safety fuzes for blasting, railway fog-signals, and percussion caps, brought as part of a general cargo and which have been placed on board the vessels while lying in dock at ports of shipment, may be brought into port and landed at the docks or jetties in accordance with the regulations prescribed in that behalf in the Port Commissioners' by-laws.

The term "safety fuze" means a fuze for blasting which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive in such quantity, that the burning of such fuze will not communicate laterally with other like fuzes.

The expression "safety cartridges" means cartridges for small-arms of which the case can be extracted from the small-arm after firing, and which are so closed as to prevent any explosion in one cartridge being communicated to other cartridges. The term also includes rifle-calibre machine-gun cartridges if they are of the above description, whether they are for use with machine-guns having chambers identical with those of rifles, or with machine-guns which have special chambers.

The maximum diameter at which a small-arm or machine-gun cartridge can be accepted as "safety" is one inch.

8. In order to avoid unnecessary detention, Masters of vessels requiring the use of the magazine powder-boat shall hoist a flag at the fore-topmast head on coming in sight of the magazine, as a signal to the keeper to have the boat and coolies in attendance.

9. Masters of vessels shall mark the names of their respective vessels on the barrels and packages of ship's explosives previously to their being landed; if not marked, they shall not be received by the magazine powder-boat.

10. Explosives shall not be landed within the port or at Moyapore or Diamond Harbour at any time when artificial lights are required to be used, and no explosives shall be landed, received into, or delivered from the magazine when artificial lights are required to be used.

11. The magazine-keeper shall give to the Master of any vessel landing explosives at the magazine a receipt for the number of packages, and the magazine-keeper shall be accountable to such Master for the re-delivery of such packages.

12. Before entering the limits of the port, the Master of every vessel having explosives on board shall make and sign a declaration in writing that to his knowledge and belief there is not on board any explosive exceeding the quantity prescribed in rule 2.

13. A clerk shall be always in attendance in the magazine powder-boat, and shall receive from the Master the declaration specified in rule 12.

14. If any vessel shall be prevented, by stress of weather or by being in distress, from landing or depositing any explosives in excess of the quantity prescribed in rule 2, such vessel may be permitted to come up to the lower limits of the port, but shall not proceed above Matteabrooj Ghât, and the Master of such vessel shall forthwith give notice to the Harbour Master of his having such explosives on board, and shall obey the Harbour Master's directions relating to the same.

15. Masters of outward-bound vessels, who may require ship's explosives for their outward voyage, shall not take such explosives on board in any part of the river above Budge-Budge, with the exception of a quantity not exceeding that prescribed in rule 2.

16. Masters of vessels, who have deposited ship's explosives at the magazine, shall inform the Harbour Master of the date on which the vessel will pass the magazine outward-bound, and on receipt of this information, orders shall be forwarded to the magazine-keeper to place the said explosives in the magazine powder-boat, and send it off in such time as to avoid any detention of the outward-bound vessel. Before taking the explosives on board, the receipt granted by the magazine-keeper shall be given up.

17. Such boats as are approved for this purpose by the Boat Surveyor to the Port Commissioners shall be permitted to take on board at the Moyapore Magazine and bring as far as Prinsep's Ghât, under cover of passes to be granted by the Commissioner of Police in such form as may be prescribed by the Local Government, 500 lbs. of trade gunpowder which is the property of dealers and consignees. For each boat the dealers shall supply an armed guard (pensioned sepoy) whom the Commissioner of Police Calcutta, will select.

18. Delivery of trade gunpowder into boats at the Moyapore Magazine for conveyance to Calcutta shall only be granted upon orders issued by the Port Commissioners.

19. No boat containing gunpowder, in accordance with the provisions of rules 17 and 18, shall be allowed to proceed above Prinsep's Ghât. All such powder shall be landed at Prinsep's Ghât, and no powder shall be landed at any other ghât, except with the special permission of the Port Commissioners.

20. No smoking, and no fire or light of any description except the red lamp between sunset and sunrise, shall be permitted on board of any boat having explosives on board.

21. Masters of vessels having on board explosives belonging to the following classes, as laid down in the Indian Explosives Rules, 1914, shall make their own arrangements for the discharge of the explosives :—

Class 1—Compressed gunpowder for blasting purposes.
„ 2—Nitrate Mixture.
„ 3—Nitro Compounds.
„ 6—Detonators.

Explosives of the classes 2 and 3 shall not be landed at the Moyapore Magazine, except such small-arms nitro-compounds as by their nature and composition are suitable for use only in the loading of safety sporting cartridges and are not intended for or suitable for blasting purposes. They shall only be allowed to enter and pass through the port under the supervision of the police and subject to such restrictions as may, from time to time, be ordered by the Commissioner of Police and the Port Commissioners, in addition to the restrictions laid down in the Indian Explosives Rules, 1914. But they may be landed at Diamond Harbour and conveyed thence by rail to a magazine declared suitable by the Government of Bengal under rule 24 of the said rules; provided they are taken direct from the vessel to wagons ; or if there be no wagons ready to receive them, arrangements are made for their safe custody after discharge from the vessel.

As regards explosives of the classes 1, 3 and 6, intended for despatch up-country, they may, as an alternative, be discharged at Moyapore and transported under police guard from Moyapore to the Bengal-Nagpur Railway siding at Bowreah and there loaded into Bengal-Nagpur Railway wagons for despatch to a magazine declared suitable by the Government of Bengal under rule 24 of the Indian Explosives Rules, 1914 ; provided the transport is covered by a pass to be granted by the District Magistrate of the 24-Parganas and the loading is done during day-light and no storage is allowed on shore or in boats : provided that, when unavoidable, storage in boats may be allowed for a period not exceeding 36 hours.

22. Boats containing explosives of the classes specified in rule 21 may anchor at Diamond Harbour if it is intended to land the explosives at that place, but shall, in no case, anchor within port limits, or be made fast at any part of the river-bank or alongside any vessel, stage, jetty, or pier within the limits of the port. Such boats, if allowed to enter port, shall proceed direct through the port to the place licensed by the Local Government for the landing and storage of the explosives.

23. Whoever contravenes any of the provisions of rule 2, 3, 4, 10, 12, 14, 15, 17, 19, 20, 21 or 22 shall be punished with fine which may extend to the amount mentioned in the proviso to section 5 (3) of the Indian Explosives Act, 1884.

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

Extension of obligation to Military Service.

1. (1) Every male British subject who has, at any time since the fourteenth day of August nineteen hundred and fifteen been, or who for the time being is, in Great Britain, and who at the date of the passing of this Act has attained the age of eighteen years and has not attained the age of fifty-one years, or who at any subsequent date attains the age of eighteen years, shall, unless he is for the time being within the exceptions set out in the First Schedule to this Act, be deemed, as from the date of the passing of this Act, or as from that subsequent date, or, if having been within those exceptions he subsequently ceases so to be, as from the date on which he so ceases, as the case may be, to have been duly enlisted in His Majesty's regular forces for general service with the colours or in the reserve for the period of the war, and to have been forthwith transferred to the reserve:

Provided that—

(a) if it appears to His Majesty at any time that it is necessary so to do for the defence of the realm, His Majesty may by Order in Council declare that the foregoing provision shall, as respects men generally, or as respects any class of men, have effect, as from a date to be specified in the Order, as if any age specified in the Order not exceeding fifty-six years were therein substituted for the age of fifty-one years, but where it is proposed to make any such Order as aforesaid, a draft of the Order shall be presented to each House of Parliament, and the draft Order shall not be submitted to His Majesty in Council unless each House presents an Address to His Majesty praying that the Order may be made; and

(b) as respects any person being a duly qualified medical practitioner, the foregoing provision shall have effect as if the age of fifty-six years were therein substituted for the age of fifty-one years.

6 & 7 Geo. 5, c. 15.

(3) All the provisions of the Military Service Acts, 1916 to 1918, as amended by this Act, shall, so far as applicable, extend to men to whom this section applies in the same manner as to men to whom section one of the Military Service Act, 1916 (Session 2), applied.

Power by Order in Council to apply Act to Ireland.

2. His Majesty may, by Order in Council, extend the Act to Ireland, and this Act if so extended shall, subject to such modifications and adaptations as may be made by the Order for the purpose of making it applicable to Ireland, have effect accordingly.

An Order in Council under this section may, as respects the civil court before which proceedings in respect of any offence punishable on summary conviction under the Reserve Forces Acts, 1882 to 1907, the Army Act, the Military Service Acts, 1916 to 1918, or this Act, or any orders or regulations made thereunder, are to be brought in Ireland—

(b) assign any such proceedings to such civil court or courts as may be specified in the Order.

Power by proclamation to withdraw certificates of exemption in case of national emergency.

(2) While any such proclamation remains in operation no application shall, except in so far as the proclamation provides for the making of applications in any special cases, be entertained for the grant or renewal of any certificate to which the proclamation applies, or for the grant of any certificate to which the proclamation would have applied if the certificate had been in existence at the date when the proclamation came into operation, and if any application for the grant or renewal of any such certificate is pending at that date, it shall be deemed not to have been made.

Provisions as to applications for certificates of exemption and as to calling up.

4. (1) The Local Government Board or, as respects Scotland, the Secretary for Scotland may make regulations for any of the following purposes :—

(a) For providing for applications for or relating to certificates of exemption (including appeals) being made to such tribunals, constituted in such manner and for such areas, as may be authorised by the regulations, and for authorising tribunals to act by committees or panels constituted in such manner as may be provided by the regulations :

(b) For establishing special tribunals, committees, or panels for dealing with particular classes of cases :

(c) For regulating and limiting the making of such applications as aforesaid and the grant, renewal, variation, or withdrawal of certificates :

(d) For providing for any other matters for which it may be necessary to make provision in order to secure the expeditious making and disposal of such applications and for any other matter for which provision may be made under paragraph five of the Second Schedule to the Military Service Act, 1916.

Any regulations made under this sub-section shall have full effect notwithstanding anything in the provisions of the Military Service Acts, 1916 to 1918, and those provisions, so far as they are inconsistent with any regulations so made, shall be repealed :

Provided that nothing in this section shall authorise the making of regulations for altering the terms of paragraph (a), (b), (c) or (d) of sub-section (1) of section two of the Military Service Act, 1916.

(2) If any person, with a view to preventing, hindering, or postponing—

(a) the calling up of himself or any other person for any form of military service or for any medical examination as to his fitness therefor ; or

(b) the operation of any notice duly given for the purpose of so calling up any person ;

or otherwise in connection with any proceedings before any tribunal or other body established for the purpose of dealing with applications for or relating to certificates of exemption, makes or connives at the making of any statement, whether oral or in writing, which is false or misleading in any material particular, he shall be liable on summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months with or without hard labour.

(3) If any question arises in any legal proceedings under the Reserve Forces Acts, 1882 to 1907, or any orders or regulations made thereunder, whether any certificate of exemption has been withdrawn or has otherwise ceased to be in force, the court may require the holder of the certificate to give evidence on the question, and if satisfactory evidence is not given to the contrary the certificate shall be deemed to have been withdrawn or to have otherwise ceased to be in force

(4) It shall be the duty of any man holding a certificate of exemption, if the certificate has been withdrawn or has ceased to be in force, or if, in the case of a conditional certificate, the conditions on which the certificate was granted are no longer satisfied, forthwith to transmit the certificate to the local office of the Ministry of National Service for the area in which the man is registered under the National Registration Acts, 1915 and 1918, with a notification that the certificate has been withdrawn or ceased to be in force, or that the conditions are no longer satisfied, as the case may be: and if he fails without reasonable cause or excuse to do so he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding fifty pounds.

(5) A man who holds a certificate of exemption (other than a certificate of exemption from combatant service only), or in respect of whom an application has been duly made for the grant or renewal of a certificate of exemption, shall not be liable for service with the colours while the certificate is in force or until the application has been disposed of, as the case may be, but notices served for the purpose of the Reserve Forces Acts, 1882 to 1907, shall not be deemed to be invalid on the ground only that they were served before any such man became liable for service, and any such man may at any time be required to present himself for medical examination or re-examination.

(6) Every person to whom a certificate of exemption shall be granted by a tribunal after the thirtieth day of April, nineteen hundred and eighteen, shall, unless the tribunal by which the certificate is granted otherwise direct, be liable on being so required in such manner as may be prescribed by Order in Council to join the Volunteer Force and remain a member of that Force for the period during which the certificate remains in force, and shall, during that period, attend such drills, undergo such training and undertake such military duties as may be so prescribed.

Amendment of 7 and 8 Geo. 5, c. 26.

5. The Military Service (Conventions with Allied States) Act, 1917, shall have effect as if for references to the Military Service Act, 1916, and to the Military Service Acts, 1916 and 1917, there were substituted references to the Military Service Acts, 1916 to 1918, and this Act, and, in the event of this Act being extended to Ireland, as if for the reference to Great Britain there were substituted a reference to the United Kingdom, and the Military Service (Conventions with Allied States) Act, 1917, shall apply accordingly, subject to the modifications aforesaid and to such other modifications as may be prescribed by Order in Council made under this Act.

Power to revoke or vary Orders in Council or proclamations.

6. Any Order in Council or proclamation made under this Act may be revoked or varied by any subsequent Order in Council or proclamation made in the like manner and subject to the like conditions.

Presentation of Orders in Council and proclamations to both Houses of Parliament.

7. Every Order in Council made under this Act, other than an Order in Council made in pursuance of section one thereof, and every proclamation so made, shall be laid before each House of Parliament forthwith, and if an Address is presented to His Majesty by either House of Parliament, within fourteen days after the Order or proclamation is laid before it, praying that the Order or proclamation may be annulled, His Majesty in Council may annul the Order or proclamation, and it shall thenceforth be void, but without prejudice to the validity of anything done thereunder.

Short title, interpretation, and repeal.

8. (1) This Act may be cited as the Military Service (No. 2) Act, 1918, and shall be construed as one with, and be included among the Acts which may be cited as the Military Service Acts, 1916 to 1918.

(2) In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, the expression "certificate of exemption" means any certificate of exemption from military service granted or renewed, whether before or after the passing of this Act, to any man belonging to the Army Reserve.

(3) The enactments specified in the Second Schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column of that schedule:

Provided that, without prejudice to the general application of section thirty-eight of the Interpretation Act, 1889, with regard to the effect of repeals, the repeal of the said enactments shall not affect any obligation whatsoever incurred by any man to whom section one of the Military Service Act, 1916, or section one of the Military Service Act, 1916 (Session 2), applied.

IMPORT AND EXPORT REGULATIONS.

The 22nd June 1918.

No 5140.—The following list of restricted imports, issued by the War Trade Board of the United States of America, is published for general information :—

LIST OF RESTRICTED IMPORTS NO. 1.

(W. T. B. R. 82.)

The 23rd March 1918.

Under the power conferred upon him by the Trading with the Enemy Act, the president, on February 14th 1918, issued a proclamation which required an import license for all articles from all countries. The chief purpose of this was to enable this Government to eliminate less essential imports to the end that tonnage might be conserved, and additional shipping be made available for the transportation of troops and supplies to Europe. Similar steps have been found necessary by the other allies, and England particularly has found it necessary to impose most drastic import restrictions in order to most effectively devote her shipping to the successful prosecution of the war.

For many weeks past, a corps of specialists have been giving the closest study as to the manner in which this import restriction would be exercised so that the greatest saving could be accomplished with the least injury to our ordinary commercial activities. The question was still further complicated by the earnest desire of this Government to affect as little as possible the Industry and Commerce of the countries associated with us in the war, and to work as little hardship as possible to neutrals. The question involves close co-operation with the Shipping Board and consultation with the State Department, the Treasury Department, the Food Administration, and other Branches of the Government, as well as the War Trade Board, within whose Province falls the actual administration of the control. As a result of these deliberations, the War Trade Board through its Bureau of Imports publishes the first list of Restricted Imports.

Applications for license to import the articles appearing on the list will not be granted except under the following circumstances :—

(1) When the articles mentioned are actually shipped from abroad prior to 15th April 1918.

(2) When coming by rail from Mexico or Canada when the goods in question originated in those countries or in others from which such goods are being licensed for import.

(3) When coming as a return cargo from European points and then only (a) when coming from a convenient port, (b) when loaded without delay and (c) when the importation from Europe is not specifically prohibited in said list.

In the future, therefore, applicants for licenses to import articles mentioned in the list will be obliged to show in their applications the existence of such of the facts above outlined as will warrant the granting of such licenses. In the case of shipments from European points, the most satisfactory evidence will be proof that shipping space has been actually engaged. The present form of application for Import license will generally be found adequate for this purpose, and where this is not found to be the case, a letter setting forth the additional facts should accompany such application.

The United States Consuls have been instructed not to issue consular invoices on and after 15th April 1918, for the articles mentioned in the list without first being furnished with the number of the Import license or being given other evidence of the issuance of such license. Shipping agencies are also advised not to accept for shipment consignments of the articles mentioned in the list without similar evidence of the issuance of the Import license. This applies only to the articles mentioned in the List. No proof of the issuance of the Import license for articles not so mentioned is to be required either by consuls before issuing consular invoices, or shipping agencies in accepting freight. It will devolve upon importers, therefore, to advise their shipper abroad by letter or cable, of the number of their Import license so that such shipper will be able to furnish the same to the consuls and the shipping agencies. This will mean that Importers must be diligent in applying for Import licenses a sufficient time in advance of the shipment so that the number of the Import license may be communicated abroad in ample time.

It should be borne in mind by importers that the publication of this List in no wise relieves them of the necessity of applying for license to import articles not on the list, as all commodities require an import license except such as are now permitted to be imported under general licenses.

The following is the list of restrictor Imports, No. 1 :—

The dates appended to various prohibitions are those of Orders of Council imposing or amending those prohibitions since the Royal Proclamation of 10th May 1916. Where no date appears it may be assumed that the prohibition stands as it did on the 10th May 1916.

List E (page 980).—Goods specially prohibited by Royal Proclamation of the 13th March 1917, as amended by Orders of Council of the 10th August 1917, and the 27th November 1917, to be exported to Switzerland. It must be understood, however, that all goods mentioned in the General List, pages 962—979, are prohibited to be exported to Switzerland whether mentioned in List E or not. Goods mentioned in the General List but not in List E are not consignable to the Société Suisse de Surveillance Economique.

Orders of Council issued subsequently to the date of this list are published in the "Board of Trade Journal," which may be obtained either directly or through any bookseller from the undermentioned branches of H. M. Stationery Office :—

The attention of exporters is drawn to the fact that various articles marked B or C may, in view of the percentage of copper contained in them, be subject to the Copper Prohibition (List A). (See "Copper.")

This list cancels all similar lists issued by the War Trade Department prior to 19th April 1918.

Application must therefore be made to the War Trade Department for licences to export goods which fall within the aforementioned copper prohibition on account of the quantity of copper contained therein. Such applications should always indicate clearly the actual quantity of copper and/or copper alloys the goods contain.

LIST F.

Goods of every description [other than (1) printed matter of all descriptions, and (2) personal effects accompanied by their owners], whether mentioned in the foregoing lists or not, are prohibited from export to Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Holland in accordance with the Royal Proclamation of 29th September 1917.

In this connection attention is drawn to the following reprint of a notice which appeared in the Public Press of the 4th October 1917.

The Director of the War Trade Department calls attention to the Royal Proclamation of September 29th, 1917, prohibiting the export, as from October 8th, 1917, of all goods (with the following exceptions) to Sweden, Denmark, Norway and Holland :

1. Printed matter of all descriptions (which will remain subject to the censorship regulations).
2. Personal effects accompanied by their owner.

It is not proposed immediately to refuse all consideration of applications for the grant of licenses for the export of goods which have not hitherto been prohibited from export to Norway, Sweden, Denmark, and Holland, but which now become prohibited under the Royal Proclamation in question. Exporters are warned, however, that the continuance of this arrangement must not be counted upon. The special arrangements in regard to the export of goods to Sweden, notified in the announcement issued by the War Trade Department on August 18th, 1916, are withdrawn as from October 8th, 1917, Sweden being thus placed on the same footing as the other Scandinavian countries and Holland. This order also applies to articles consigned by parcels post.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 27th June 1918.

Summary.—The rainfall during the week was heavy, especially in the northern and in some of the eastern districts. The excessive rain has affected the crops on low-lying areas and has, in some cases, necessitated the early harvesting of jute. The condition of other crops is, on the whole, fair. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by about 1·3 per cent., as compared with that of the previous week.

4. Where a Bearer Bond is reported to be lost or destroyed, and the coupons are in the possession of the person claiming to be the owner of the bond and coupons, the Controller of Currency, if satisfied that the bond has been lost or destroyed, may, after the expiry of six months from the last date of the advertisement prescribed in rule 3, direct the Public Debt Office, Calcutta, to issue to the claimant a duplicate bond with coupons and to pay the amount of any coupons which may be due, upon the execution by him of a bond of indemnity with two sureties, should the same be deemed necessary, for twice the value of the bond lost or destroyed, and on the surrender by him of the unpaid coupons of the original bond.

5. Where both a Bearer Bond and its coupons are reported to be lost or destroyed, the Controller of Currency, if satisfied that the bond and coupons have been lost or destroyed, may, on the expiry of two years from the last date of the advertisement prescribed in rule 3, include the particulars of the lost or destroyed bond and coupons in a list of lost Bearer Bonds and coupons. No payment shall, however, be made on the lost or destroyed bond or coupons, nor shall a duplicate bond with coupons be issued, until six years have expired from the date of the first insertion in the list. Thereafter the Controller of Currency, if he sees no objection, may direct the Public Debt Office to issue to the claimant a duplicate bond with coupons and to pay the amount of any coupons which may be due (or if the bond is of a terminable loan which has fallen due for redemption, to pay the amount of the bond and of any coupons which may be due) upon the execution of a bond of indemnity with two sureties, should the same be deemed necessary, for twice the value of the bond and twice the value of the coupons due for payment. The Controller of Currency may, if he thinks fit, extend to twelve years the period of six years mentioned above.

6. Where the coupons only of a Bearer Bond are reported to be lost or destroyed, the Controller of Currency, if satisfied that the coupons have been lost or destroyed, may, on the expiry of two years from the last date of the advertisement prescribed in rule 3, include the particulars of the coupons in the list mentioned in rule 5. No payment shall, however, be made on the coupons, nor shall a duplicate bond with coupons be issued until six years have elapsed from the date of the first insertion in the list. Thereafter the Controller of Currency may, if he sees no objection, direct the Public Debt Office, on the surrender by the claimant of the original Bearer Bond, to issue to him a duplicate bond with coupons and to pay the amount of any coupons which may be due on the execution of a bond of indemnity with two sureties, should the same be deemed necessary, for twice the amount of the coupons due for payment. The Controller of Currency may, if he thinks fit, extend to twelve years the period of six years mentioned above.

7. The list referred to in rules 5 and 6 shall be advertised half-yearly in the Gazette of India, in the months of January and July or as soon afterwards as may be convenient. All Bearer Bonds and coupons, the inclusion of which in the list has been directed by the Controller of Currency, shall continue to be advertised every half-year until the expiry of six years from the date of first publication or from the date of the last payment of a coupon, whichever is the later date. The list shall contain the following particulars, viz., the number of the lost Bearer Bond, its value, the dividend numbers and dates of the lost coupons, the name of the loan, the name of the claimant for a duplicate, and the date of publication of the list in which the Bearer Bond was first mentioned.

8 The indemnity bond referred to in rules 4, 5 and 6 shall be in such form as may be prescribed by Government. No fee will be chargeable if a bond does not exceed the amount of Rs. 500, but on bonds for higher amounts a fee of Rs. 5, for every Rs. 1,000, or a part thereof, shall be charged, provided that no fee for any one indemnity bond so issued shall exceed the amount of Rs. 30.

If, however, the Controller of Currency considers that the circumstances of the case demand that a bond shall be specially prepared by the Government Solicitor, a fee of Rs. 32 shall be payable to that officer.

9. Particulars of lost or destroyed Bearer Bonds in respect of which an order is made for the issue of a duplicate under rule 4, as also of the bonds or coupons referred to in rules 5 and 6, shall be advertised half-yearly in the Gazette of India. The bonds or the coupons shall be included in the first list published next after the passing of such order and shall continue to be advertised every half-year until the expiry of six years from the date of their first publication. The list shall contain the following particulars, viz.. the number of the bond, the name of the loan to which the bond relates, the value of the bond, the dividend numbers of coupons relating to the bond, the name of the claimant for a duplicate, and the date of publication of the list in which the loss or destruction of the bond or the coupons was first mentioned. The loss or destruction of the bond or the coupons or both must also be specifically indicated in each case.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

BENGAL LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 932L., dated the 8th July, 1918.—The following Bill was introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council on the 3rd July, 1918, and is hereby published for information, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons annexed thereto:—

A

further to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, in the manner hereinafter appearing; VIII of 1885

And whereas the previous sanction of the Governor General has been obtained under section 79, sub-section (2), of the Government of India Act, 1915, to the passing of this Act; 5 & 6 Geo 5, c 61

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment No. 2) Act, 1918.

Amendment of section 74 of Act VIII of 1885

2. Section 74 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885 (hereinafter called the said Act), shall be renumbered as sub-section (1) of section 74, and after the said sub-section the following shall be added, namely:— VIII of 1885

"(2) All impositions upon tenants of road cess or public works cess, or of both,—

(a) in excess of the net amount prescribed by section 41 of the Cess Act, 1880, or Ben Act IX of 1880

(b) on any scale in excess of that prescribed by clause (3) of that section, levied in addition to the actual rent, shall be illegal, and all stipulations and reservations for payment of any such excess contained in any contract made between a landlord and a tenant on or after the 13th day of October, 1880, shall be void:

Provided that, subject to the provisions of section 72 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, no suit shall lie for the recovery of anything paid before the commencement of the Bengal Tenancy (Amendment No. 2) Act, 1918, on account of the impositions referred to in sub-section (2)." IX of 1872

Amendment of section 75

3. In section 75 of the said Act,—

(1) after the words "in excess of the rent" the words "or road cess or public works cess" shall be inserted; and

(2) after the words "lawfully payable, may" the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"subject to the proviso to sub-section (2) of section 74."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

UNDER the provisions of section 41 of the Cess Act, 1880 (Bengal Act IX of 1880), the amount payable on account of road and public works cesses by a cultivating raiyat to the person to whom his rent is payable is one-half of the full rate. When the Cess Act was first introduced in 1871, Government took the exceptional precaution of issuing a proclamation pointing out how the payments of raiyats were to be calculated, and informing them of their liabilities and rights. In 1885 it was brought to the notice of Government that it was a common practice of zamindars to recover from their raiyats the full amount of the road cess and public works cess payable to Government in respect of their estates. A notification was again published for the information of all persons concerned that the amount payable with his rent on account of road and public works cesses by any cultivating raiyat is only one-half of the full rate of such cesses. In I. L. R. 33 Cal. 683 it has been held that cess does not come within the definition of an abwab contained in section 74 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885 (VIII of 1885), as it is not an imposition on the tenant by the landlord in addition to the rent but a tax imposed by Government, and that therefore a contract to pay more than the proportion payable by the tenant under section 41 of the Cess Act is not illegal. Recent inquiries have disclosed the fact that the limits laid down in section 41 of the Cess Act are being ignored on the authority of the High Court's rulings. On grounds of public policy it is desired to amend the law so as to bring it into consonance with the intention of the framers of the Cess Act, 1880.

2. The object in view is sought to be attained by an amendment of section 74 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, providing that all impositions upon tenants, of road and public works cesses, in excess of the limits prescribed by section 41 of the Cess Act, 1880, in addition to the actual rent, shall be illegal, and that all contracts to pay more than the prescribed proportion made later than the 13th October, 1880, the date on which the Cess Act came into force, shall be void. Consequential amendments have also been made in section 75 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885.

3. The proposed amendment will not affect contracts entered into by the holders of permanent mukarari leases, who will still be subject to the provisions of section 179 of the Bengal Tenancy Act.

4. Provision has been made that no suit shall lie for the recovery by tenants from their landlords of cess paid before the date on which the Bengal Tenancy Act will be amended.

NOTIFICATION.

BABU BRAJAMOHAN DUTT'S PRIZE FOR INDIAN LADIES FOR THE YEAR 1918-19.

THE following subject has been selected for "Babu Brajamohan Dutt's Prize" of Rs. 45 for the year 1918-19 :—

Domestic sanitation—as an important branch of learning for ladies

The conditions for the award of the prize are—

(1) That the competition be open to all educated women, being natives of Bengal, without regard to age.

(2) That the prize of Rs. 45 be given for an essay to be written either in Bengali or Sanskrit.

(3) That the essays be sent to the Central Text-book Committee for adjudication within six months of the date of advertisement.

(4) That each essay be accompanied by a written declaration from the husband, parent, or guardian of the competitor that, to the best of his belief, she has received no assistance of any kind, direct or indirect, in writing the essay.

Candidates are requested to send their essays not later than the 31st December 1918 to the Secretary to the Central Text-book Committee, Office of the Inspector of Schools, Presidency Division, 8, Dalhousie Square, Calcutta. The envelope containing the essay should be superscribed "Brajamohan Dutt's Prize Essay." The name of the successful competitor will be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

A lady who wins the prize in any year is not debarred from subsequent competition, and if the essay submitted by a competitor who has been previously successful is adjudged to be the best, the name of such a competitor will be published in the Gazette as the winner of the competition. The actual prize will, however, in these circumstances, be awarded to the competitor whose essay is adjudged to stand next in order of merit, provided that her essay comes up to the standard required by the next clause.

If none of the essays come up to a standard which is, in the opinion of the examiners, adequate, no prize will be awarded.

CALCUTTA, THE 17TH JULY 1918.

RESOLUTION—No. 5670P.

THE District Administration Committee, in the course of their enquiries into the conditions of the various districts of Bengal, found that there are several unwieldy districts, which are too large for efficient administration, and that it will be necessary to divide them into smaller administrative units before any considerable advance can be made in the development of local self-government and the expansion of education and sanitation. Mymensingh and Midnapore were regarded by the Committee as the districts most urgently in need of division, but they placed Dacca third on the list. Though the area of that district is only 2,777 square miles, its population, which in 1911, was nearly 3,000,000, and must now be considerably larger, is second only to that of Mymensingh. The work of administration in Dacca is rendered difficult not merely by the density of the rual population, which in parts is nearly 2,000 to the square mile, but also by the high average level of intelligence and education among the people. The Munshiganj subdivision, which is probably the most advanced rural tract in India, covers an area of only 386 square miles, and, though there is not a single municipality in the subdivision, it contains 23 high schools with an average of over 300 scholars in each and 557 primary schools. This extensive system of education not only adds to the work of the local officials, but is a sign of the intelligence and of the political and social aspirations of the people. The difficulties of administering the district are greatly increased by the defective communications. The country to the south and east of Dacca is a vast stretch of swampy rice fields traversed in every direction by a net-work of water channels, which renders the construction of roads and railways a practical impossibility. In the matter of land revenue, Dacca has a larger number of estates than any other district in the Presidency, and the complexities of its system of land tenures are less only than those of Bakarganj. The volume of litigation is greater in Dacca than in any other district except Mymensingh. The District Magistrate of Dacca is further burdened with the responsibility of looking after the headquarters station, which is the largest town and the largest educational centre in the Presidency outside Calcutta and Howrah, and presents problems of peculiar difficulty, social, political and administrative.

2. The Governor in Council has no hesitation, therefore, in coming to the conclusion that the district of Dacca is too heavy a charge for a single officer, and, as a matter of fact, the District Officer has for several years past been given the assistance of an Additional District Magistrate. This system has, however, been found wanting in Dacca, as elsewhere. While the Additional District Magistrate can relieve the District Officer of the routine work of certain departments, it is impossible for the latter to divest himself of his responsibility for the administration of the district as a whole, or to find time, when so burdened in a district like Dacca, for the investigation and initiation of schemes of reform and rural development. Dacca is specially fortunate in the possession of a large number of gentlemen of education and position residing in the interior, who, as experience has shown, are willing to give their time and services as members of union committees and other public bodies. There is no district in Bengal, in which the prospects of a sound and useful development of local self-government are more hopeful, and His Excellency in Council is convinced that an advance in this direction would be greatly facilitated if Dacca were divided into two districts of manageable size, each under a responsible District Officer, who would have the time and the opportunity to guide and assist its development. The time has therefore arrived for this change to be made, not solely or even mainly in order to relieve the existing pressure on the over-worked district officials, but in the best interests of the district itself. It remains to consider the best method of effecting this division, and before coming to a final decision on this question, His Excellency in Council is desirous of having the views and opinions of all who will be affected by the change.

3. The scheme of division proposed by the District Administration Committee has been subjected to careful examination by the officers of the various departments concerned, and the Governor in Council, while refraining at the present stage from binding himself to a final decision either on the principle or on the details of the scheme, considers that it may suitably be put forward as a basis for discussion. The Committee contemplated the division of the present district into two parts, the new western district, comprising the existing Sadar and Manikganj subdivisions, and the eastern district comprising the present Narayanganj and Munshiganj subdivisions, lying along the Meghna river. No change is needed in regard to the Munshiganj and Manikganj subdivisions which are suitable and compact areas of manageable size, but the Sadar and Narayanganj subdivisions are both, in modern conditions, unmanageable administrative units. The former covers an area of 1,240 square miles with a population of over a million. Narayanganj has an area of 641 square miles and a population of nearly 800,000. The Committee accordingly proposed that a new subdivision should be formed in the northern portion of the present Sadar subdivision, consisting of the revenue thanas of Kapasia and Sabhar and the Jaidebpur police-station, and that the Narayanganj subdivision should similarly be divided by the creation of a new subdivision in the north-eastern corner of the present district comprising the Raipura thana and the Narsingdi police-station. The economic condition of this part of the district is not satisfactory and requires careful watching; it has suffered severely from the fall in the price of jute which has taken place since the outbreak of the war, and it was found necessary to grant agricultural loans on an extensive scale in 1914.

4. The composition of the proposed districts is shown in the following statements :—

The population figures are taken from the Census of 1911, and there is every reason to believe that they have increased considerably in the last seven years.

5. As regards the headquarters of the new districts and subdivisions Dacca is clearly the most suitable place for the headquarters of the western district. For the eastern district, Narayanganj, though within ten miles of Dacca, appears to be on the whole, the most suitable place for a district headquarters. It is conveniently situated in regard to communications with the Munshiganj subdivision, and it is already a subdivisional headquarters for the remainder of the area which will form the proposed eastern district. A suitable site is available on the banks of the Lakhya river near the present subdivisional station. The District Administration Committee proposed that the headquarters of the new northern subdivision in the western district should be at Jaidebpur, but it has been strongly represented by the local officers that a more suitable site would be at Tangi, some six miles south of Jaidebpur. Tangi is even now a railway junction where the lines from Dacca to Mymensingh and from Tangi to Bhairab meet, and when the extension of the latter line to Tangail is carried out, the importance of Tangi as a trade centre will be further increased. Tangi is also more conveniently situated than Jaidebpur with regard to communications by road and river, and is reported to be more healthy. For these reasons, the Governor in Council is inclined to substitute Tangi for Jaidebpur as the headquarters of the proposed northern subdivision. For the new north-eastern subdivision, it is proposed that the headquarters should be on the Tangi-Bhairab Railway in the neighbourhood of Narsingdi, which appears to be more conveniently situated than any other place in the subdivision.

6. It may be added that no change is contemplated in the judicial arrangements of the present district beyond the transfer of two Munsifs from Dacca and Narayanganj, respectively, to each of the proposed new subdivisions. The superior courts will for the present remain at Dacca, and the work will continue to be divided between the District Judge and an Additional Judge. There are not the same difficulties about this arrangement as in regard to the apportionment of work between the District Officer and the Additional District Magistrate. There are indeed certain advantages in concentrating the higher branches at a single centre, provided the public convenience is not materially impaired.

7. If the division of the district is carried out on the lines suggested, Dacca would seem an appropriate name for the new western district and Narayanganj for the new eastern district. But on this point, as well as on all others connected with the scheme, the opinions of the public are freely invited. This resolution is published with the object of enabling public associations and private individuals to formulate such criticism and advice as will lead to the best possible solution of the problem. Opinions should be sent to the Collector of Dacca not later than the 31st October 1918.

By order of the Governor in Council,

J. H. KERR,

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 11th July 1918.

Summary.—The rainfall in the northern and eastern districts was heavy but the fall was moderate in the western districts. Transplantation of winter rice seedlings and weeding of jute and autumn paddy in the western districts are proceeding. Cutting and steeping of jute and harvesting of autumn paddy are going on in some of the northern and eastern districts. Condition of low land jute is not promising; the growth of the crop has been affected by the heavy rain. Prospects of other standing crops are fair. Weeding of sugarcane is in progress. Cattle-disease is reported from six districts. The average price of common rice has slightly risen as compared with that of the previous week.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Home Department.

In the Resolution of the Government of India, in the Home Department, No. 2884, dated the 10th December 1917, it was announced that the Governor-

General in Council, with the approval of the Secretary of State for India, had decided to appoint a Committee—

(1) To investigate and report on the nature and extent of the criminal conspiracies connected with the revolutionary movement in India.

(2) To examine and consider the difficulties that have arisen in dealing with such conspiracies and to advise as to the legislation, if any, necessary to enable Government to deal effectively with them.

The Committee met under the presidency of Mr. Justice Rowlatt of the King's Bench Division of His Majesty's High Court of Justice, and included the following members:—

The Hon'ble Sir Basil Scott, Kt., Chief Justice of Bombay.

The Hon'ble Diwan Bahadur C. V. Kumaraswami Sastriyar, Judge of the High Court of Madras.

The Hon'ble Sir Verney Lovett, K.C.S.I., Member of the Board of Revenue, United Provinces.

The Hon'ble Mr Provash Chandra Mitter, Vakil of the High Court of Calcutta.

Mr. J. D. V. Hodge, I.C.S., Bengal, acted as Secretary to the Committee

2. The Committee have now submitted their report accompanied by a volume of appendices, informing the Government of India at the same time that they are doubtful whether the matter contained in the supplementary volume is suitable for publication as it reproduces literature of a very inflammatory character. The Government of India have examined the report carefully and decided to publish it with a few omissions which are marked by asterisks. These are made solely in the public interest and do not in any way affect the arguments of the Committee and the conclusions which they have reached. For the reason given by the Committee it has been decided to withhold from publication the volume of appendices. It is manifestly inexpedient that the pernicious matter which it reproduces should obtain publicity; the miserable history of sedition in India has all too often shown, and the report amply testifies, how the seeds of violence are first sown, especially in the enthusiastic but inexperienced mind of youth, by access to the literature of anarchy and crime.

3. The report which is unanimous, is based largely on an enormous mass of intricate documentary evidence, and gives a full and concise account of the origin and growth of revolutionary conspiracy in India, while the ramifications of the movement, and the inter-connection of its varying phases in different provinces, are traced with admirable clearness and precision. In conclusion the Committee submit their recommendations regarding the steps required to meet the difficulties that have arisen and these will now be taken into consideration.

4. In announcing the publication of the report the Governor-General in Council takes the opportunity of expressing his high appreciation of the labours of the Committee, and of the manner in which the results of their investigations have been presented.

ORDERED that the Resolution be published in the Gazette of India and that a copy be communicated to Local Governments and Administrations, the Departments of the Government of India noted on the margin, and the Director, Central Intelligence.

RESOLUTION ON THE SANITARY AND VACCINATION REPORTS, BENGAL.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

Sanitation Branch.

CALCUTTA, THE 22ND JULY 1918.

RESOLUTION—No. 479San.

READ—

The Reports of the Sanitary Commissioner, the Sanitary Board and the Sanitary Engineer, Bengal, for the year 1917.

READ ALSO—

The Annual Statistical Returns and Short Notes on Vaccination in Bengal for the year 1917-18.

General results.—The year 1917 was remarkably healthy. The number of recorded births exceeded the number of deaths by 440,364, representing an addition of approximately 1 per cent. to the population recorded at the last census. The increase was more than double that returned last year, which was the largest recorded since 1912.

2. Birth-rate.—The birth-rate rose from 31·89 per mille to 35·91 per mille, which exceeds by 2·59 per mille the mean ratio of the previous quinquennium. The actual increase over the number of births recorded last year was 182,281; and every district contributed to this increase except Howrah and Bankura, where there was a decrease of 1·2 per mille.

3. Death-rate.—The death-rate fell from 27·37 to 26·19 per mille, the actual mortality being nearly 200,000 less than the average of the previous quinquennium. The decline was common to both urban and rural areas; and, as shown in the marginal statement, there was a smaller mortality from all the common diseases except respiratory diseases. Among the districts, Darjeeling has the highest death-rate (38·6 per mille), its unenviable position being due to the unhealthiness of the Tarai, where the Sanitary Commissioner records the melancholy fact that 49·2 per mille of the population fell victims to fever. Among the towns of Bengal Kurseong heads the list, not for the first time, its death-rate being 48·79 per mille. Its unhealthiness is ascribed to insanitary conditions and the want of a proper sewerage system. The Governor in Council has determined to remedy this unsatisfactory state of affairs, and a sewerage scheme will shortly be carried out with the help of a large Government grant and loan.

4. Infantile mortality.—The number of infants dying during the first year of life was only 18·5 per hundred births. There has been a steady and progressive decrease in infantile mortality during the last four years, the percentage falling from 22·14 to 18·5. The highest ratio (23·92) was recorded in Calcutta, where, however, there has been considerable improvement during recent years. The ignorance and inefficiency of Indian midwives, coupled with the insanitary conditions which attend child-birth in a crowded city, constitute a special problem; and the Governor in Council is pleased to observe the success of the Lady Health Visitors and the midwifery organization under their control in preventing waste of child-life. During 1916-17 the Corporation midwives attended 627 cases, and there were only three maternal deaths, while the number of infantile deaths within ten days after birth was 35. A system of periodical inspections of babies at their homes by the Lady Health Visitors has also been introduced, and the fact that there were only 19 deaths among 464 babies under observation justifies the claim of the Chairman that the measure has some potential value in the saving of infant lives.

5. Vital statistics.—The returns of vital statistics are admittedly deficient, and it is unnecessary to dilate on this familiar fact. The usual verification by inspectors and sub-inspectors of vaccination brought to light a slightly larger proportion of omissions, viz., 3·3 per cent. of births and 2·3 per cent. of deaths, than in the preceding year. The statistics are defective not only on account of such omissions, but also through confusion as to the causes of death. The Sanitary Commissioner estimates that, even in the most malarious districts, possibly only one quarter, or at the most one-third, of the deaths entered under the head of fever are really due to malaria. "Kala-azar accounts for a certain number of deaths in some districts; enteric fever is far more prevalent than is generally supposed; and phthisis probably accounts for at least 10 per cent. of the deaths recorded from fever." An improvement has, however, been effected in some towns. The recorded birth-rate in Asansol has been raised in two years from 6·02 to 30·5 per mille. Dhulian, in Murshidabad, which last year headed the list with a birth-rate of 31·4, has this year increased the rate to 43·6. Brahmanbaria and Madaripur also record rates of over 40, representing an increase of 16 and 12 per mille, respectively. On the other hand, 14 municipalities record birth-rates which are absurdly low, ranging from 7·6 per mille in Jhalakati to 14·8 per mille in Mymensingh. These 14 municipalities include district headquarters and populous towns, such as Suri, Burdwan, Bogra, Khulna, Titagarh and Bhadreswar, in which a better system of registration might be expected. It is clear, as the Sanitary Commissioner remarks, that "in the majority of these towns the lowness of the birth-rate merely signifies neglect on the part of the local authorities to take steps to secure accurate registration."

6. Fever.—The number of deaths reported under this head was 882,768. There has been a steady decrease from the total of 1,064,159 registered in 1915, the annual diminution being 154,279 in 1916 and 27,112 in the year under review.

The decrease in 1917 was confined to rural areas, urban statistics showing a slight increase, which the Sanitary Commissioner attributes to an improvement in the registration of deaths.

Eastern Bengal, a region blessed with an abundant rainfall and great rivers, which, as they spread over the land in flood, not only fertilize the soil, but create conditions adverse to malaria, has, as usual, a comparatively low death-rate. Northern Bengal, a land of dead and dying rivers, in which the drainage system is deranged, is the most malarious part of the Presidency, four districts in the Rajshahi Division heading the list with the rates shown in the margin: the rates for the four least malarious districts are shown in contraposition.

7. Anti-malarial measures.—Progress was made with the execution of three of the four experimental anti-malarial schemes designed on lines laid down by Dr. Bentley. The Meenglass scheme, which will carry underground the ordinary flow of hill streams, was completed and came into operation in the rains of 1917. It was not, however, found possible to control all the hill streams within the area of the experiment, and Government have given an additional grant for further work. The Sanitary Commissioner reports that, while a spleen census taken after the rains of 1917 suggests that there has been some diminution in malaria, it will not be possible till after the rains of 1918 to judge whether the area under control is likely to be sufficient for the reduction of malaria. Progress was less satisfactory with the scheme for surface drainage, combined with the flushing of streams, in the Singaram colliery in Burdwan. Delay in the completion of a masonry pier resulted in the structure being washed away by an unexpected flood, and difficulties, which were eventually overcome, arose over the abandonment of patches of rice cultivation which afforded breeding places for the anopheles mosquito. It is hoped that some idea may be gained of the effect of this scheme also after the rains of the current year. The scheme for flush drainage of an urban area at Jangipur was not completed in time to take advantage of the early floods, and consequently the flood water of the Bhagirathis was only taken in twice late in the season. The works necessary for flooding a rural area in the Banka Valley near Burdwan could not be taken up in the absence of certain technical data which were required as a preliminary to engineering work. The engineering observations are now complete and the scheme is being proceeded with, while a special malaria survey has been carried out in 38 villages. Two Sub-Assistant Surgeons are now posted in this area to keep a record of births, deaths and sickness, while Sub-Assistant Surgeons have been sent to Meenglass, Singaram and Jangipur to watch the results of the schemes and supervise the free distribution of quinine and other drugs.

In addition to the usual free distribution of quinine, of which the cost is met by Government, special measures were undertaken in several localities for the prevention and reduction of malaria. Anti-malarial surveys were carried out in the Basirhat and South Dum-Dum municipalities and in a large number of villages, as well as at the Kidderpore docks and the Sibpur College. Quinine was distributed to school children by five towns and five District Boards; and a spleen census was taken by thirteen towns and two District Boards.

Interesting proposals regarding the possibility of forecasting and mitigating epidemics of malaria were received from Sir Leonard Rogers and were referred early in the year under review to the Sanitary Commissioner, whose report is still awaited. The Sanitary Commissioner draws attention to the efficacy of quinine prophylaxis in the case of European residents in the Duars. Ten years ago this district was so notoriously unhealthy on account of malaria and black-water fever that it was known as "the white man's grave". In 1906, there were 20 deaths among 200 Europeans, most of whom were young adults. The daily use of a small dose of quinine as a prophylactic has now been adopted by almost the whole of the European community, with the result that black-water fever has now almost ceased to occur among them; enlarged spleens are rare; Europeans are enabled to enjoy relatively good health; and the Duars is now spoken of as "a fairly healthy district"

There is also reason to believe that the prophylactic value of quinine is being recognized and appreciated by Indians to an increasing extent. Eloquent testimony on this point is afforded by editorial paragraphs which have recently appeared in the Bengalee and Amrita Bazar Patrika. The former journal points out that "in the malaria season quinine is as much an essential commodity to the inhabitants of villages as food or clothing;" that the drug is "an article of every-day necessity" and "as important as air or water" to the mufassal public. The Amrita Bazar Patrika, which has hitherto been sceptical as to the benefits of quinine, remarks that a stoppage of the supply of quinine treatments to village post masters "means the sure death of hundreds of persons for want of an ordinary medicine. Quinine may not always cure malaria, but there is no doubt that it is the only anti-malarial medicine hitherto discovered ... . In malarial places it is as essential as daily food."

8. Small-pox.—During the last three years there has been a progressive and satisfactory decline in the mortality from small-pox, which was 32,785 in 1915, fell to 13,890 in 1916, and in the year under review reached the low figure of 7,010, which is only half the annual average for the preceding quinquennium.

9. Vaccination.—The reported number of vaccinations was 1,614,601 or 12,948 less than in the previous year, but there was an increase of 8,191 in the number of persons vaccinated. The reduction in the number of vaccinations which occurred in several districts is ascribed partly to the diminished prevalence of small-pox and partly to the fact that the full staff of vaccinators was not at work in consequence of epidemics of malaria. Free vaccination was continued in the 24-Parganas and one subdivision of Bakarganj, and was introduced in Jalpaiguri, at the cost of the District Board, as well as in the Asansol mining settlement; in all these districts there was a marked increase in the number of operations. On the other hand, free vaccination had to be discontinued in a thana of the Faridpur district, where it had been introduced as an experimental measure in the previous year, as the people elsewhere refused to pay fees to the licensed vaccinators.

10. Cholera.—There was an unusually small mortality from cholera, deaths numbering only 45,021 or 25,815 less than in the previous year. This is the lowest figure recorded since the reconstitution of the Presidency in 1912. The marked diminution in the prevalence of the disease is associated with increased rainfall and especially heavy falls in June and October.

11. Plague.—Plague remains an almost negligible factor in the health statistics of Bengal, the number of deaths in 1917 being only 163. All those who succumbed to the disease were residents of towns, and it was entirely absent from rural areas : 81 occurred in Calcutta, 48 in the 24-Parganas, 24 in Hooghly, and 10 in Howrah, the rest of the Presidency being immune.

12. Miscellaneous enquiries.—The researches made a few years ago by Lieutenant-Colonel Clayton Lane, I.M.S., brought to light the prevalence of ankylostomiasis or hook-worm disease in the Darjeeling district ; and during the year a systematic enquiry was instituted, with his assistance, in order to ascertain the prevalence and distribution of the disease in other parts of the Presidency. An examination of prisoners in fourteen jails, which were selected as affording facilities for the enquiry, shows a high degree of hook-worm infestation in the districts concerned, the percentage of infection being over 80 per cent. in five, from 70 to 80 per cent. in four, and from 60 to 70 per cent. in five of those in which the investigation was made.

The Committee appointed to consider the sanitary organization of the Port of Calcutta, with special reference to the action necessary to ensure its security against yellow fever, finished its enquiry. Its report was submitted to Government after the end of the year, and is now under consideration.

13. Sanitary Engineering.—The total cost of sanitary work carried out by Government, District Boards, municipalities and private individuals during the year 1916-17 is returned at Rs. 15,19,316 as against Rs. 14,60,006 for the preceding twelve months. The expenditure comprised in this total is so lacking in uniformity, however, including as it does the construction of reservoirs for agricultural purposes, the acquisition of a burial ground and the construction and maintenance of dispensaries, that the figures have no clear statistical value.

The actual capital expenditure on works of sanitary engineering reported by the Sanitary Engineer amounted only to Rs. 3,32,108 as against Rs. 4,61,894 in the previous year, the falling off being due to the continued policy of economy imposed by financial conditions. Of the total expenditure Rs. 1,95,293 was on account of water-works and Rs. 1,36,815 on account of drainage schemes.

Work was in progress during the year on new water-supply schemes in the towns of Uttarpara, Satkhira and Nator, and on the extension and improvement of existing water-works in Howrah, Burdwan and Berhampore. Little progress was effected in Satkhira owing to delay on the part of the contractor and the eventual cancellation of the contract, but the water-works in Uttarpara were approaching completion by the end of the year, and it is hoped that those in Nator will be ready before the close of the current year. In Howrah the construction of new settling tanks and filter beds was completed, but otherwise work was almost at a standstill owing to financial difficulties. The improvement of the Berhampore water-works was completed, but at Burdwan disputes with contractors put a stop to the work which had been begun on a new elevated reservoir. Detailed water-supply schemes were under preparation for the towns of Dacca, Mymensingh, Krishnagar, Midnapore and Suri, and sketch projects were prepared for six other localities, including Rajbari, where it is intended to execute a water-supply scheme, for which a grant of Rs. 10,000 has been sanctioned by Government. The riparian water works scheme for the supply of water to a number of municipalities on the east bank of the Hooghly above Calcutta was referred to the local authorities concerned during the year. It is regretted that financial stringency has prevented further progress with schemes of water-supply in urban areas, for, as pointed out by the Sanitary Commissioner, the introduction of filtered water-supply is always followed by a marked reduction in the mortality from cholera and dysentery and diarrhœa.

Three drainage schemes were completed during the year, viz., at Tangail, Garden Reach and Bhatpara, the second part of the Bhadreswar drainage scheme was almost completed, and a few small works were carried out at Howrah. Detailed schemes were prepared for the towns of Dacca, Munshiganj, Krishnagar, Serampore and Kurseong and sketch projects for a small drainage scheme in Khulna and for a joint water-supply and drainage scheme in Comilla.

There were about 115 septic tanks at the end of the year 1916 in the districts of the 24-Parganas, Howrah and Hooghly, mostly attached to jute mills on the banks of the Hooghly; eight more were installed during the year under report, and further construction was in progress at its close.

14. Sanitary Board.—During the year the Provincial Malarial Committee was amalgamated with the Sanitary Board, as it was found that the work of the two bodies overlapped, there being few schemes of sanitation which do not have a direct bearing on the question of the prevention and mitigation of malaria, and it was considered that an enlarged Sanitary Board would be a stronger and more useful body.

15. Mines Board of Health.—The Governor in Council is pleased to observe the excellent work being done by the Mines Board of Health in checking and controlling outbreaks of small-pox, cholera and malaria, in the mining settlement in the Asansol subdivision of the Burdwan district. It is reported that the precautions taken by the Board proved effective in arresting the spread of epidemics of small-pox and cholera in this area, the decrease in the number of cases compared with the previous year amounting roughly to 1,000 and 600 per cent., respectively. The organized distribution of quinine also appears to have been largely instrumental in preventing a recrudescence of the epidemic of malaria which in 1916 spread panic among the labour force of the collieries. The Mines Board of Health has the advantage not only of dealing with a comparatively small area and with a population largely under the control of the collieries, but also of being able to exercise special powers under the Bengal Mining Settlement Act and the Epidemic Diseases Act; but even so the diminution of disease in the mining settlement shows, as the Sanitary Commissioner remarks, "the remarkable effect of organized control and should serve as an object-lesson to all District Boards."

16. Development of the Sanitary Department.—The year under review witnessed a continued development in the activities of the Sanitary Department, due to the growth of interest in questions of public health, and the closer attention paid to the sanitary organization of local bodies, as well as to the special enquiries and experiments which were in progress. There was also a further increase of work in the bacteriological laboratory of the Department owing to the more frequent analysis of samples of water and food. It is anticipated that there will be a further expansion of this branch of the Sanitary Department if a Bill for the prevention of food adulteration which Government propose to introduce becomes law.

The sanitary organization of municipalities under the Bengal Municipal Sanitary Officers Act of 1914 is now practically complete, but the position is very different in rural areas. The Sanitary Commissioner has repeatedly drawn attention in his report to the absence of any effective public health organization outside the towns and to the necessity for a full-time District Health Officer and subordinate staff for systematic work in the prevention and mitigation of outbreaks of malaria, cholera and small-pox. No real advance in regard to vaccination or any other public health work can, in his opinion, be expected until there is a properly organized public health department in each district. The Governor in Council recognizes the steps already taken by District Boards to afford medical relief by the establishment and maintenance of dispensaries, but hitherto their energies have been devoted to the cure rather than the prevention of disease. It has not been sufficiently realized that public health is one of their primary duties, that they are responsible for initiating sanitary reforms in rural areas, and that for this purpose there must be an organized staff trained in modern methods of hygiene and capable of dealing with problems of public health. The great majority of the Boards have been satisfied with entertaining a low paid Sanitary Inspector of poor qualifications and with deputing doctors to deal with epidemics as they arise. Much more is required of the District Boards if they are to discharge their functions as guardians of the public health; and orders are about to issue, as a preliminary measure of reform, requiring the appointment by all District Boards of a qualified District Health Officer, who will be responsible for vaccination work, measures against epidemics and sanitary education in rural areas.

17. Staff.—Dr. C. A. Bentley was in charge of the office of Sanitary Commissioner, Bengal, and Mr. G. B. Williams of that of Sanitary Engineer, throughout the year. The Governor in Council desires to acknowledge the enthusiasm and zeal of Dr. Bentley, and to express his appreciation of the efficiency with which Mr. Williams has, as in previous years, discharged his duties. He also desires to thank the Sanitary Board and their President, the Hon'ble Mr. C. J. Stevenson-Moore, C.V.O., for valuable assistance in examining and advising Government on sanitary schemes and on the programme of sanitary work.

By order of the Governor in Council,

L. S. S. O'MALLEY,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Preliminary Forecast of the Jute Crop in Bengal, 1918.

(NOTE.—On an average of five years ending 1915-16, the area under jute to which this forecast relates represents 87·7 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.)

THIS forecast deals with the estimates of area sown and the present condition of the crop, based on information received through the agency of the panchayats as in previous years.

Area Sown.—The returns show a total area sown of 2,250,836 acres, being a decrease of 161,591 acres or about 7 per cent. from last year's final figures. The large decreases in area reported from some districts may be attributed to the low price obtained for last year's crop and the large carry over. The area has been well maintained in the more important jute-growing districts in Eastern Bengal, viz., Dacca, Faridpur, Mymensingh and Tippera, the two former showing considerable increases over last year's figures.

Character of the Season.—The rainfall was below normal in all districts in January and February. The month of March was, on the whole, favourable for the preparation of the land and the seeding of the crop in the more important districts. April and May were favourable months for jute, although the rainfall in the latter month was in excess. The heavy rainfall and want of sunshine in June has, however, retarded the growth of the crop to a considerable extent. The recent sunny weather has been beneficial, but has come too late for many places.

Present State of the Crop.—The crop may be rated as " fair " only, and is, on the whole, inferior to that of last year at the time of the publication of the Preliminary Forecast.

Stocks in Hand.—A large balance from last year's crop is still held in the districts, especially in Northern Bengal

Preliminary Jute Forecast of 1918.

DISTRICT.	ESTIMATED AREA UNDER JUTE— Last year. (Final figures.)	ESTIMATED AREA UNDER JUTE— This year.	Whether much, little or no jute remains in the district from the crop of 1917.	Date by which the sowing of the crop generally commenced this year, and whether the date was early, normal or late.	REMARKS BY DISTRICT OFFICERS.
1	2	3	4	5	6
	Acres.	Acres.
24-Parganas	68,801	56,845	Very little	Middle of April; normal.	Decrease in area is mainly due to fall in the price of jute and to some extent excessive rains at sowing time. Excessive rains hampered the growth of the crop and caused considerable damage. The present conditions are not favourable.
Nadia	70,089	52,418	Little in all subdivisions excepting Sadar.	Beginning of May; normal.	The decrease in area is due to low price of jute. The weather conditions have been on the whole favourable
Murshidabad	26,476	17,606	Much remains in Jangipur, but very little in other subdivisions.	May; normal ...	The decrease in area is due to fall in the price of jute. The weather conditions were favourable at the beginning, but heavy rains afterwards retarded sowing and affected growth of the crop already sown. Continued rain in May damaged the crop to some extent.
Jessore	84,706	63,372	Little	March to May; late in Narail, but normal in all other subdivisions.	The decrease in area is due to fall in the price of jute. Growth of the crop has been much affected by incessant rainfall since sowing time. Much damage has also been done by excessive rains. The present condition is on the whole fair.
Khulna	27,727	22,806	Much	April; normal ...	The decrease in area is partly due to unfavourable weather at sowing time and partly to fall in the price of jute. Excessive rains retarded the growth of the crop. The present condition is fair.
Burdwan	6,451	5,758	Much jute remains at Sadar from the crops of last year.	Middle of April; normal.	The decrease is due to previous year's crop remaining unsold. Weather has been favourable at sowing time. Incessant rainfall during the latter part of June is likely to retard the growth of the crop.
Midnapore	14,557	9,257	Nil	May; normal ...	Decrease in area is due to want of rain at sowing time and low price of jute. The present weather conditions are good.
Hooghly	33,723	27,645	Little	Beginning of May; normal.	The decrease in area is due to want of rain at the beginning and heavy rainfall at the end of sowing time, and also to low price of jute obtained last year. Growth of the crop has been much hampered and some damage done by heavy rains.
Howrah	13,366	7,930	Little	Middle of May; normal.	The decrease in area is due to fall in the price of jute. The weather was favourable at sowing time, but subsequently turned unfavourable on account of incessant heavy showers. The present condition of the crop, especially on low lands, is unfavourable.
Rajshahi	81,094	74,300	Little	Early in March on the low lands and on high land by the middle of April.	The decrease in area is due to low price of jute. Heavy rain retarded growth of the crop slightly. Slight damage is reported from Nowgong owing to heavy rain.
Dinajpur	61,700	60,000	Little	First part of April; normal.	The decrease in area is due to low price of jute. Weather was favourable at sowing time, but excessive rainfall later on affected the growth of the crop as weeding could not be done properly. The present condition of the crop is fair.
Jalpaiguri	52,500	43,562	Much	Latter part of April; normal.	The decrease in area is due to fall in the prices of jute. Weather conditions have not been favourable. Heavy rain after sowing caused slight damage. The early sown crop is doing well, but the condition of the late sown crop is not good.
Darjeeling	3,562	3,216	Nil	Second week of April; late.	The decrease in area is due to drought at sowing time. Weather has not been favourable from sowing time up till now on account of untimely and heavy rainfall. The crop is damaged to some extent.
Rangpur	356,331	300,178	Much	March; normal ...	The decrease is due to low price of jute last year. The weather at the time of sowing and weeding was good, but the recent heavy rainfall has proved unfavourable.
Bogra	64,755	66,438	Much	Middle of March; normal.	The increase in area is due to an expectation of a better market of jute. Weather at sowing time was favourable Heavy rains in May and June caused appreciable damage to the crop.

DISTRICT.	ESTIMATED AREA UNDER JUTE—		Whether much, little or no jute remains in the district from the crop of 1917	Date by which the sowing of the crop generally commenced this year, and whether the date was early, normal or late.	REMARKS BY DISTRICT OFFICERS.
	Last year. (Final figures.)	This year.
1	2	3	4	5	6
	Acres.	Acres.
Pabna	117,600	87,433	Some	First week of April; a little late.	The decrease is due to low price of jute and to some unsold stock remaining in the hands of cultivators.
Maida	34,000	29,000	Some	May; normal ...	The decrease in area is due to low price of jute. The weather conditions have been on the whole favourable.
Dacca	262,083	292,602	Some	March to middle of April; little late in Sadar.	Increase in area is due to improvement in prices since the end of December last and abundance of paddy. Damage to the extent of about 8 to 10 per cent. has been caused by sudden and early rise of rivers. This has necessitated premature harvesting in places. The present condition is on the whole good.
Mymensingh	579,608	377,922	Little	Latter part of March; normal.	The decrease is mainly due to prolonged drought and low price of jute. The weather was favourable at sowing time, but heavy rainfall later on damaged the crop on low-lying tracts.
Faridpur	200,000	218,100	Much	Beginning of April; normal.	Increase in area is due to improved prices of jute during the latter part of the season and to favourable weather conditions at sowing time. Growth of the crop has been affected by heavy and too early rainfall.
Bakarganj	57,000	54,000	Little	End of March and early part of April; a little late.	Decrease in area is due to defective rainfall at sowing time. Excessive fall later on caused damage to the extent of about 20 per cent.
Chittagong	200	200	Nil	Middle of April to middle of May; normal
Tippera	228,318	232,742	Very little	Sowing commenced from March and ended in May; early on low lands, but late on high lands.	Weather was favourable at sowing time, but continuous heavy rainfall afterwards retarded the growth of late sown crop The early sown crop is, however, promising.
Noakhali	32,590	30,007	Little	Early in March; normal.	The decrease in area is due to low price of jute obtained last year. The effect of weather on the cultivation and growth of the crop was not favourable. The present condition is also not good owing to continuous rainfall since end of April.
Total for Bengal ...	2,376,347	2,221,022
Add for Cooch Behar ...	36,180	29,814	Some	Middle of March to April.	The decrease in area is due to dullness of the jute market. Sowings were somewhat late for want of timely rainfall. Heavy rains afterwards affected growth of the crop as weeding could not be done properly.
GRAND TOTAL ...	2,412,527	2,250,836

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BIHAR AND ORISSA.

Preliminary forecast of the Jute Crop of Bihar and Orissa, 1918.

(NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1915-16 the area under jute to which the Bihar and Orissa forecast relates represents about 9·2 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.)

THE present forecast deals only with the estimated area sown. It gives also a general survey of prospects, but makes no reference to the probable outturn either in percentage figures or in bales.

2. Acreage.—The estimated area sown during the current and four preceding years in round numbers is given below :—

Year.	Acreage.
1914	330,100
1915	188,100
1916	224,000
1917	223,300
1918	150,600

3. Weather conditions.—In March the rainfall was below the normal in all jute-growing districts. In April and May it was above the normal everywhere except in Balasore, where it was in slight defect during the former month. In June the rainfall was above the normal except in Bhagalpur and the Santal Parganas, where it was slightly below the normal. Weather conditions have not been favourable in the important districts of Purnea and Cuttack on account of excessive rain during the past month.

4. District returns.—The total area under jute as reported by the District Officers is estimated in round numbers at 150,600 acres as compared with 223,300 acres of last year. The decrease is due to the low price of jute last year, and also to apprehension of increased trouble in selling this year owing to a diminution of railway facilities.

5. Condition and Prospects.—The condition of the crop is not promising in Cuttack and Purnea elsewhere it is fair to good.

6. General.—A large quantity of jute from the crop of 1917 remains in Purnea. In other districts the stock of last year's crop is small.

Bhagalpur	Bhagalpur	2,661,020	1,664,100	3,800	2 272	1,867	In two subdivisions little jute remains from the crop of last year, in one much and in one none	April to beginning of June	The decrease in the area this year is noticeable chiefly in Supaul, from where it is reported that it is due to the fall in the prices of jute. Here 1,659 acres have been shown for this year against 2,166 acres, the corresponding figure of last year Much more sugarcane is also now being grown in this area than formerly
	Purnea ...	3,196,153	1,694,400	223,100	192,000	122,200	A large quantity estimated at 900,000 maunds.	March (normal)	The large reduction in area is due to the low price of jute last year and to the anticipated lower price this year owing to large stocks remaining in the district. Owing to heavy rain during the last month and a half the crop does not promise well

In the Pakaur subdivision the acreage under jute is decreasing owing apparently to the decrease in the price of the fibre The condition of the crop is so far fair, but the present heavy rain will cause damage if it continues. The date of sowing was normal. In Raj Mahal sowings have been completed The condition of the crop is good.
Orissa	Cuttack ...	2,340 807	1,223,500	16,000	20,700	18,700	Very little ...	Last week of April (normal).	The weather was not very favourable as there has been continuous and excessive rain after the crop was sown The present condition of the crop is poor as a considerable area is under water owing to sudden high floods. Sowings have been completed. The decrease in area this year is due to the low price at which jute was sold last year
	Balasore ...	1 832,621	972,200	2,900	2,100	2,200	Owing to less demand and to low prices a little quantity of jute still remains in the district from the crop of last year	2nd week of May	The rainfall and weather have been favourable for the growth of the crop The condition of the crop is good, The sowing was early; it has been completed The crop of this year is expected to be better than that of last year. DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, ASSAM.

Preliminary Forecast of the Jute Crop in Assam, 1918.

(NOTE.—On the average of the five years ending 1915-16, the area under jute in Assam represents some 3·1 per cent. of the total area under jute in British India.)

1. Character of the season.—There was very little rain in February, but more than usual in March, which was followed by a dry April. In May the rainfall was adequate, whereas in June it was above the average except in Surma Valley, where it was normal. The weather at the beginning was not at all very favourable except in Surma Valley. The early floods in June slightly damaged the jute crop in almost all districts. The present condition of the standing crop appears to be favourable.

2. Area sown.—As estimated by the Deputy Commissioners, the total area of the province is calculated to be 90,300 acres or 10,000 acres less than the final revised figures of last year and 13,600 acres more than in the preliminary forecast of last year. Goalpara and Sylhet, the two principal jute-growing districts, are responsible for the decrease on account of the unfavourable market outlook.

3. Stocks.—It has been reported that little jute remains in almost all districts, but in the Sadar subdivision of Goalpara, practically the whole produce of last year still remains with the traders, the reported cause being insufficient transport.

Preliminary Forecast of the Jute Crop of Assam for 1918.

DISTRICT.	Normal area under jute.	AREA UNDER JUTE.		DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE FIGURE NOW ESTIMATED FOR 1918 AND THE FINAL OF 1917.		Whether much, little or no jute remains in the district from the crop of 1917.	Date by which the sowing of the crop generally commenced this year and whether that date was early, normal or late.	REMARKS BY DEPUTY COMMISSIONERS.
		Final of 1917.	Now estimated for 1918.	Increase.	Decrease
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.	Acres.
Cachar ...	300	400	100	...	300	No	Early in April; normal.	The cultivation of jute has decreased for want of good price in the market. The weather at the sowing time was fair, but the continuous rains in June have obstructed weeding of the crop to a certain extent. The condition of the crop is fair and outturn is expected to be the same as last year.
Sylhet ...	16,000	18,700	16,000	...	2,700	Little	End of March; normal	The good outturn of paddy and poor price of jute last year are responsible for the decrease in area. The weather at sowing time was favourable, but not so afterwards on account of early floods. The damage by floods may extend to 25 per cent. or more in some places. The condition of the crop which is not affected by flood is good and the outturn is expected to be large.
Goalpara ...	42,400	48,400	41,800	...	6,600	In Sadar practically the whole still remains with the traders who could not send to Calcutta for want of sufficient transport. In Goalpara little remains.	March and early in April; normal.	The decrease in area as compared with the finally revised figure of last year is due to the unfavourable jute market. The weather was not very favourable owing to early floods which has caused some damage to the crop. The outturn is not likely to be better than last year.
Kamrup ...	8,100	10,700	10,000	...	700	Little	1st April; normal	The decrease in area is due to want of rain at the time of sowing. The weather has been favourable to the crop in spite of the floods which damaged the crop to some extent. The present condition of the crop is promising and the outturn is likely to be better than last year.
Darrang ...	7,000	7,700	7,900	200	...	Little	Middle of April; normal.	The increase in area is due to extension of cultivation by foreign settlers on account of favourable weather. Flood has done slight damage to crop in the Mangaldai subdivision. The present condition of the crop is good and the outturn is likely to be better than last year.
Nowgong ...	8,700	8,900	9,100	200	...	Little remains with the merchants owing to dull market.	15th March; early	The increase in area is due to better price of jute than that of rice and also to influx of immigrants who have taken up much land for jute. The condition of weather is favourable to the crop and better outturn than last year is expected. Floods in Kopili side have done little damage to the crop.
Sibsagar ...	300	400	400	...	...	Little remains ...	In Jorhat and Sibsagar sowing begins by 15th April; normal. In Golaghat by last week of March; early.	The weather has been favourable to the crop and better outturn is expected than last year.
Lakhimpur ...	200	100	100	...	...	No	1st April; normal	The unfavourable weather and the looting disturbances in the north bank mauzas and in the North Lakhimpur subdivision at the time of sowing the crop have been the cause of the small area. Rain was excessive at the beginning, but is now normal. The prospects of the crop are now fair.
Garo Hills ...	4,100	5,000	4,900	...	100	Little jute remains	Middle of April; normal.	The decrease in area, as compared with the final figures of last year, is due to fall in price of jute and want of sufficient rain at sowing time. The weather was not very favourable at the beginning but appears to be good now, and the outturn is expected to be a little better than last year.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS

For the week ending on the 18th July 1918.

Summary.—During the week heavy rain fell in some of the northern and eastern Bengal districts. The fall was generally light to moderate elsewhere. Transplanting of winter rice is proceeding. More rain is, however, wanted for the operation in the Burdwan Division. Jute and autumn paddy on the low lands of Eastern Bengal have suffered considerably from excessive rainfall and abnormal rise of rivers. The prospects of the standing crops are reported to be on the whole fair. The average price of common rice for the province has slightly risen as compared with that of the previous week.
